Mucosal Immunity, Detoxification, and Naturopathic Medicine

David Lescheid, BSc, PhD, ND
PureMed Naturopathic Centre

Dr. David W. Lescheid, Naturopathic Doctor from PureMed Naturopathic Centre in Ottawa, will speak on “Mucosal Immunity and Naturopathic Medicine”: This talk speaks to the importance of the gastrointestinal tract in modulating and balancing the immune system response and therefore, providing protection from infectious diseases such as the flu. Dr. Lescheid holds a PhD in Molecular Biology/Protein Chemistry, a BSc in Biology, a diploma in Health and Fitness Studies and doctorate in Naturopathic medicine. He was previously a Professor at The Canadian College of Naturopathic Medicine for 5 years where he taught microbiology and infectious diseases and physiology. Dr. Lescheid was the recipient of several awards and scholarships and has authored numerous peer-reviewed scientific journal articles. He also is an invited speaker to many scientific conferences and is an active member of several different national and international committees.
